Bed Bug Facts...

- Bed Bugs are ectoparasites, meaning they are external parasites. Like vampires, they suck the blood of humans and animals.
- Bed Bugs are rather flat allowing them to crawl into tight spaces ... like between mattresses and box springs, seams of mattresses, cushions, luggage, bedding, furniture, behind wallpaper, etc.
- Bed Bugs are great travelers. The scent of human skin can send a bedbug racing across a room at a pace of 10' per hour. That's fast considering they can be anywhere from 1 to 7 millimeters long. Hiding within bedding, pillows, luggage, overnight bags, the bedbug can easily become a cross-country or international traveler... via plane, train, car, boat, motorcycle, bicycle, space shuttle....no passport required.
- Bed Bugs communicate with each other via aggregation pheromones. When they find a host, they emit an aggregation pheromone telling other bed bugs to come on over.... Unlike a sex pheromone, the aggregation pheromone calls both male & female, at any stage of development. Pro-Pest® Bed Bug monitors incorporate a semiochemical that mimics the human scent. Bedbugs will find the Pro-Pest® monitor very quickly and begin releasing their aggregation pheromone, attracting more of their buddies. No pesticides. No insecticides. Just good scents and glue.
